

Indoor Photography - 1 day course

Who is this course for ?

This course is for you if you already know the basics of how to use your Digital SLR or Bridge camera and you want to get the best out of using your camera indoors. Indoor photography can be challenging especially in low light but it can also be really rewarding when you make the best use of artificial or natural light.

We will teach you how to control your Exposure by using Aperture, Shutter Speeds and ISO and about how light is important to give you the results you expect from your photos. The course is based in our studio and we will use studio lights and flash as well as artificial lights that you can find round your home to allow you to practice when you have left the course. Most of all, this course is about you trying new things and experimenting with light. We guarantee that you will surprise yourself and you will leave the course with a handful of new tricks that you will want to practice again and again when you leave. We want you to leave the course feeling confident that you fully understand what all of the functions on your camera do and how to control light to give you excellent photos so we will give you plenty of time to practice and lots of one to one tuition.

Maximum group size: the maximum group size will be 6 people with 2 trainers or 3 people with 1 trainer.

Each day is 7 hours from 9.30am – 4.30pm

What to expect: You will join us in Weaverthorpe at our studio for a 9.30am start and after some introductions, we will cover the following;

- 1) Understanding about the importance of light and how to control Exposure using each of the functions of your camera including Aperture, Shutter Speed and ISO and their relationship with light. We will look at how to use histograms and play back to get more predictable results from your photos and how to use light to change the look of your photo.
- 2) Practice makes perfect ! We will get plenty of time to practice using a variety of different subjects and different light sources including studio lights, flash, other more traditional light sources and natural light
- 3) We will consolidate what you have learned and remind you of some Top Tips for next time you pick up your camera.

Throughout the day, we will download your photos on to the computer and at the end of the day you can pick your own favourite 'photo of the day'. You will leave the course with Tip Sheets and you can contact us anytime for advice or just to show us how you are getting on with your photography.

Things to know

Where is the course ?

We will be indoors all day at our studio in Weaverthorpe YO17 8EY

What about food and drink ?

You will need to provide your own lunch and you can either bring a packed lunch or there is a farm shop only 1.5 miles down the road. We will provide hot and cold drinks and snacks throughout the day to keep you going though !

What do you need to bring ?

Your camera with a fully charged battery

Your battery charger

Your camera manual (if you have one) – every camera is different so occasionally it is useful to refer to your manual

Any lenses or other accessories that you have that you would like to practice with or ask advice on throughout the course

A memory card for your camera with plenty of space on it – if you have existing photos on your card then we suggest that you either save them on to your computer and delete them from your card or bring a new card. If you want to bring a memory stick with you then I can transfer your photos on to your stick at the end of each day to keep them safe for you.

A camera bag and strap for your camera – to protect your camera and prevent any breakages

A tripod if you have one but don't worry if not because we have ones you can borrow
